Editor Public Ledger:
We wish to inform the public through the columns of your paper that District Game Warden H. E. Porter, with his deputies, are patrolling this county in search of game and fish law violators, and the pot hunters, and the person who hunts without a license is the person that will have to pay the penalty.

ALMOST EQUALS "THE PERILS OF PAULINE."

This morning, with the mercury down to 10 above zero, Crane & Shafer's painting crew were engaged in the perilous work of painting the M. C. Russell building, corner Third and Market streets.

Dangling from a swinging scaffold 90 feet from the cement pavement is not a safe or pleasant job at any time, and it's doubly dangerous when the cold is running.

MORROW FOR GOVERNOR

Federal Attorney Announces For Republican Nomination.

Edwin P. Morrow of Somerset, former United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Kentucky, said: "I have decided to offer for governor of Kentucky subject to the action of the Republican party at the primary election next August, and from this time I may be considered as an active candidate."

"My action is prompted by a desire for the office and the honor, and it is supported by the belief, based upon the expressions that have been made to me, that the people want me for their governor."

6,500 TURKEYS SLAUGHTERED AT FLEMINGSBURG.

(Times-Democrat.)

The Brent & Lynch turkey slaughterhouse closed for Thanksgiving market Wednesday, having killed 6,500. The birds are reported a little off in weight this year and those who are holding for the Christmas market are advised to feel up well between now and the opening, about the first week in December.

A LITTLE TOUCH OF WINTER.

This morning was the coldest of the season, the government thermometer showing 10 degrees above zero. On the hilltops it was 4 degrees colder.

However, these are bright, crisp, sunny days, and there is oodles of fresh, dry air on tap out of doors.

SOMETHING DECISIVE EXPECTED

London, November 19.—Violent fighting has been resumed within a two-hour motor ride of the gates of Paris.

At Tracy-La-Vall, where the main battle line from the north swings to the eastward at the point nearest Paris, a German advance led to a violent encounter.

The Germans attempted to recapture the town, won by the allies a few days ago, but according to the French war office statement today, they were repulsed with heavy losses.

In Flanders, the artillery duel described during the last few days as of trifling intensity, has become still more violent, on the part of the Germans at least, but here, as elsewhere, the opposing forces are holding fast to their main positions.

A German official communication states that heavy fighting has been resumed in the Argonne forest, around which some of the most severe encounters of the war have raged from time to time during the last two months. A heavy loss, it is said, was inflicted on the enemy.

In a battle between two squadrons of aeroplanes, it is said one mishap of the allies and one of the Germans were lost.

London, November 19.—The situation on the eastern battlefield has reached the critical stage. The outcome of two desperate battles now proceeding in Prussia and Poland, will determine whether the Russians are to overflow German territory from the Baltic to the Carpathians, or whether the Germans will hammer the czar's masses back to the Vistula.

BERLIN CELEBRATING BIG VICTORY OVER RUSSIANS.

London, November 19 (12:07 p. m.).—The unexpected blow delivered on the Russian center by General von Hindenburg with the German army, which had retreated from before Warsaw, was the predominant feature of the news reaching London today from the eastern arena of war.

FIGHTING IN FLOOD DISTRICTS BEING CARRIED ON IN FLAT-BOTTOMED BOATS.

Bruges, Belgium, November 19.—Fighting between the German and allied forces in the inundated territory between Dixmude and Newport on the North Sea coast is now frequently being carried on in boats.

THE SITUATION UNCHANGED.

Berlin, November 19 (Via Marconi Wireless Telegraphy to London).—A German official communication given out in Berlin today says:

"The situation in West Flanders and in the north of France is unchanged."

MOST TERRIBLE PUNISHMENT IN THE WORLD.

Political offenders in parts of Mongolia are punished by lifetime imprisonment in coffin-like boxes stored away in dark dungeons. The horrors of this punishment are graphically portrayed in the cover design of the December Popular Mechanics Magazine. The boxes are only large enough to contain one man. There is but one aperture, and that no larger than his head. His hands are manacled and twice a day attendants bring food and drink, which are placed in the shackled hands outstretched through these round windows, which are his only communication with the world. Many highly educated Chinese, it is said, are imprisoned here.

HOUSE PARTY AT BELLEVUE.

Mrs. A. F. Curran left yesterday afternoon for a week's visit with her cousin, Mrs. John A. Earnshaw, at Bellevue, Ky. She was joined on the train at Dover, Ky., by Dr. F. M. Smith and daughter, Miss Ethel Smith, Mrs. W. B. McMillan, Miss Lydia Earnshaw and Miss Beulah Moore and all will form a merry house party at the Earnshaw home, and also at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hanna, former residents of Dover.

GEN. ROBERTS AT REST.

London, November 19.—"Taps" sounded today for England's beloved "Bob."

Field Marshal Lord Roberts was laid at rest in St. Paul's Cathedral with a public funeral that was impressive.

The export of foodstuffs for the month of October showed a tremendous gain over the same month in 1913. The total exports for the month, however, fell off somewhat.

Miss Carrie Wlad will leave this morning for Cincinnati where for the next several months she will study stenography.

M HOWARD TAFT

which the name of former President Taft is mentioned for the nomination in 1916 is not due to a dearth of good material, but to the fact that he seems best to typify and to embody the truest experience of the nation and the truest standards of national administration. During his retirement from office he has commanded the respect of the entire people by his dispassionate, balanced and discerning expressions upon national matters. This fact furnishes one of the best reasons for believing that in 1916 the standard bearer of the Republican party for the rehabilitation of the country's ideals and practical agencies will be William Howard Taft.—Baltimore American.

CANAL BUILDER FOR PRESIDENT.

Col. George W. Goethals, Republican nominee for President in 1916. This is the honor that his friends hope to have the G. O. P. leaders confer upon the builder of the Panama Canal. They point out that within the last few years Col. Goethals has frequently been mentioned for the President and that it might, accordingly, be comparatively easy to induce Progressives as well as regular Republicans to unite on him. At the last session of the House of Representatives a bill was passed extending the thanks of Congress and conferring on him the rank of Major General.

IS DER KAISER GROWING HUMBLE?

"Ah! Wrong it is to point,
No matter where you be,
You should not, must not, point,"
Said mother, tenderly.

Prunella de Lite, the young mother, was taking Sinbad her little son, out walking. Considering that he was only five, little Sinbad walked extremely well, she thought.

Suddenly a strong odor of smoke assailed the air, and turning, Prunella saw that it was rising from her own summer kitchen. Little Sinbad pointed excitedly.

"See, mamma, see!" he cried. "I set that fire with my little box of matches!"

"Sinbad," said his mother, reprovingly, "how often have I told you never to point!"

And they walked on.

After a bit they passed a Chinaman carrying a bag of laundry.

Again little Sinbad waved his arm excitedly.

"Ooh, mamma!" he cried. "Look at the d-d Chink!"

"Sinbad," said his mother reprovingly, "must I speak to you again about pointing?"

And they finished their walk and went home. The fire men were just putting out the last two or three flames and little Sinbad's father had returned home and was watching them amusedly.

"Agnois," said Sinbad's mamma to Sinbad's papa, "Sinbad has been a bad little boy today. He pointed twice."

So Sinbad's papa spanked him.—Louisville Times.

HISTORY OF MULE

He Was Introduced In This Country
By George Washington.

No one loves a mule when he is a little under the weather, but now and then appears a man who knows what the animal can do at his best and stands up in defense of the motive power that "made Missouri famous." Such a mule-lover, writing in "Harness," tells how the mule beats the horse at its own occupation, and mentions the debt of the most maligned draft animal to George Washington, "the father of his country." A mule won't eat more than one-half as much grain as a horse and will out-last two or three horses at hard work. A mule has more sense than a horse and takes better care of himself. A mule will not overeat or over drink, and a horse will. When he has enough he will quit. After hard work he will not drink until he has rested. He will not let himself be overworked. When he has done as much work as he ought to in a day he stops. He is not nervous like a horse and he seldom worries. He is immune to the diseases that attack the horse, especially in the new country of the southwest. In breaking up a new country certain fungus or germs get into the grain that poison horses, but has no effect upon mules. Finally, the owner of a mule can cash him in at any time until he is eight years old. In that respect he is like a diamond. He can always be sold for full value. The mule was introduced into this country on a large scale by George Washington, who became convinced that the mule would be a better working animal than the horse in the southern states, where the horse was peculiarly liable to be killed by disease. Washington received a present of a jack and two jennets from the king of Spain, who selected them from the royal stables in Madrid, and Lafayette, who knew how anxious Washington was to introduce mules to the south, sent him a jack and several jennets from the island of Malta. It was not long until Washington had his barn stocked with mules, and from there they were distributed among the farmers of Virginia. Twenty years ago mules were very cheap and did not bring 10 per cent. of what they do now. The rebellion of the Cubans against the Spanish government gave the first great impetus to mule prices. The Spanish government bought thousands of mules in this country, used in the war against the rebels on the island. A mule was selling then for $48—that would bring $125 now. Then came the war of the British against the Boers in South Africa, and the British government sent men here to buy mules. The price doubled in three years. The British government bought 1,000,000 mules and horses. Since then the price has never come down, but has steadily increased. Twenty years ago the average price of mules was about $50. Twelve years or so ago the average price was $100. Now the average price is about $150. But mules of better quality sell for $175 to $200.—Harrodsburg Herald.

NOTHING BETTER FOR WEAK WOMEN

"I Never Spent Any Money That Did Me So Much Good as That I Spent for Vinol."

Bellevue, Ohio.—"I wish every tired, weak, nervous woman could have Vinol for I never spent any money in my life that did me so much good as that I spent for Vinol. My nerves were in a very bad condition, making me very weak, tired, and worn out and often drowsy headaches. I had tried cod liver oil, doctor's medicines, and other preparations without benefit.

"One day a friend asked me to try Vinol. I did and soon my appetite increased, I slept better and now I am strong, vigorous and well and can do my housework with pleasure."—Mrs. J. F. LAMBORN, Bellevue, Ohio.

Nervous, weak, tired, worn-out women should take Mrs. Lamborn's advice and try Vinol for there are literally thousands of men and women who were formerly run-down, weak and nervous, who owe their good health to Vinol.

It is the medicinal, tissue building elements of the cod's livers, aided by the blood making, strengthening influence of tonic iron, contained in Vinol, which makes it so efficient in all such cases.

WEAK KIDNEYS MAKE WEAK BODIES

Kidney Diseases Cause Many Aches and Pains of Maysville People.

As one weak link weakens a chain, so may weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking-down.

Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and generally when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers.

Aches and pains and languor and urinary ills frequently come, and there is an ever-increasing tendency towards dropsy, gravel or fatal Bright's disease. When the kidneys fail there is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help.

Dean's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. Maysville testimony is proof of their effectiveness.

Mrs. Annie McClellan, 541 W. Second St., Maysville, Ky., says: "I was often dizzy and nervous and my head ached. I had pain in my back and my kidneys were weak. Dean's Kidney Pills stopped the complaint immediately and made me well and strong."

Mrs. McClellan is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Dean's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Dean's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. McClellan had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50¢ all stores. CHRISTMAS TOYS SUPPLIED BY AMERICAN MAKERS.

There is no danger of a Christmas toy famine on account of the European war. Some kinds of playthings for which this country has been dependent upon Germany may not be so abundant as formerly, but American manufacturers are already producing toys to an annual value almost equal to that of the German imports, and American children are no longer exclusively supplied from Nuremberg," says the December Popular Mechanics Magazine in an illustrated article.

"The center of the American toy industry is at Winchendon, Mass., where several of the most important factories are located. Opposite the railway station in this city is an enormous hobby-horse, and this symbol very nearly tells the story in regard to the city's industries. Even before the war broke out, toys of every kind were being produced in enormous quantities in this city. These included even the Noah's arks, which for many years were turned out exclusively by German makers. The situation is one that may result in a big change in the toy-making industry."

FORWARD, KENTUCKY!
E. POLK JOHNSON.
(Louisville Times.)

There probably are persons who doubt the practicality of the night school; doubt that adults, many of them advanced in years, can be rescued from the darkness of illiteracy. To such persons, a concrete example is offered. It was my ill-fortune to be confined in a northern military prison during 1861. One day a fine young man from the Kentucky mountains asked me if I would write for him a letter to his parents. Telling him that it would give me pleasure, I thoughtlessly asked him why he did not write it himself. I was very young in those far-away days else the question would not have been asked. He was a fine young man; a good soldier and, innately, a gentleman. His face flushed as he hesitated in replying. Finally he said: "You know I am a mountain man; there was no school near me and my parents, being poor, could not send me away to a school. I can not read and that is why I asked you to write a letter for me."

"Would you not like to learn?" I asked him. "Nothing would give me more pleasure," he replied. The result was that through the winter I obtained the necessary books and opened my school with but one pupil. That young man in a surprisingly short time could read any book in English; could write a far more legible hand than his teacher, and when I gave him his verbal diploma there was no problem in Ray's Third Part Arithmetic which he could not solve. I have never decided which of us, teacher or pupil, derived the greater pleasure from this experience. Besides he getting the weary hours of imprisonment for each of us, a door had been opened into a darkened mind through which shone the bright light of a common school education; a good young man had been made a better man, and when the war had ended, he went back to his mountain home fitted to be an honor to his parents and a beacon light to the community. He lived an honored citizen and passed into the Beyond an upright Christian gentleman.

The excellent women who are leading the "Forward Kentucky" movement are doing a noble work and deserve the aid and encouragement of all who have pride in the state and a desire to see it advance to the high station it deserves. It was with a desire to render some aid to them that this article was written.

Great Singers Must be "Tobacco Wise"

Tuxedo is the Tobacco Chosen by Opera Stars

MEN who depend upon their voices come to know tobacco as the ordinary smoker never knows it. A sensitive throat or mouth feels the slightest sting, bite or scorch of tobacco.

Tuxedo is the one tobacco which singers, actors, public speakers—all men who guard their throats zealously—can smoke with pleasure and safety.

Tuxedo tobacco cannot sting, bite or irritate the delicate membranes of the mouth or throat.

Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo tobacco has made thousands of men converts to the pipe, because it has made pipe-smoking possible for them. Under the famous "Tuxedo Process" the mild, tender leaves of the highest grade Burley tobacco are so skillfully treated that Tuxedo burns slowly and affords a cool, mild, thoroughly enjoyable pipe smoke.

Leading men in all walks of life—well-known doctors, lawyers, ministers, lecturers, etc.—smoke Tuxedo and testify to its soothing influence on the throat.

AN APPEAL FOR OLD CLOTHING.

Since the cold weather set in there have been numerous requests for warm clothing at the City Mission. Many applicants have had to be turned away as the supply of such things is almost exhausted. Shoes, boys' suits and waists, girls' dresses and coats are particularly needed for school children who can not attend school because of lack of proper clothing. The need for shoes of all kinds is particularly great. Haven't you some castoff clothing in your attic to send to the City Mission? It will be greatly appreciated.

Because the forty-four children present last week were so delighted with "The Sleeping Beauty," this afternoon Miss Maxin will tell two of the very best fairy stories she knows. There will also be a good adventure story for the boys. Let the children go to the Mission at 3:30 and hear them.

IN MEMORY OF LORD ROBERTS.

London.—Here are three stanzas of a poem by Rudyard Kipling, on Lord Roberts, printed in the Daily Telegraph:

He passed in the very battle smoke Of the war that he had decreed; Three hundred miles of cannon spoke, When the master gunner died.

He passed to the very sound of the guns, But before his eyes grew dim, He had seen the faces of the sons, Whose sires had served with him.

"A MIX-UP"

Parker A. Hord's Farce Comedy Creating a Sensation in Theatrical Circles—Remarkable Press Comments.

That the new farce comedy, "A Mix-Up," by Parker A. Hord of Maysville, is creating a furor is evident by the following press notices:

DETROIT PAPERS, NOVEMBER 17TH, 1914.

(The Detroit Free Press.)

Not in a long time has so amusing a play been seen locally as "A Mix-Up," in which Miss Dressler is celebrating her first departure from musical comedy. It gives full latitude for those funmaking propensities that she has always utilized so generously, and every incident on which a laugh could be hung is capitalized to the uttermost.

"A Mix-Up" is a farce comedy, in which farce is rather more conspicuous than comedy. Which should not be taken in the nature of criticism, or as an intimation that the play in any sense falls short of the mission on which was sent by Parker A. Hord, the author, and the Messrs. Shubert, under whose direction Miss Dressler is appearing. Its reason for existence is its power to provoke laughter; and any one who could gloom in the combined presence of Miss Dressler and misadventure, who finds expression here, would provide an interesting study for alienists.

(The Detroit Tribune.)

They wired Dick Lawrence from Cleveland that he had a scream coming to the Garrick in the shape of Marie Dressler and her new comedy, "A Mix-Up," by Parker A. Hord. They were literally correct—a scream. The orchestra leader doubled up last night and blase persons in boxes had hysterics.

Detroiters knew what to expect of Marie Dressler, who is appearing in a new farce comedy from the pen of Parker A. Hord, made an audience of more or less blase theatergoers laugh themselves into hysterics in the Garrick Theater Monday night. "A Mix-Up," with Miss Dressler in the leading role is just one long, loud laugh, from the rise of the curtain until its final descent after three all-too-short acts. And it is all clean laughter. Each situation becomes more exasperatingly funny, until the climax of the play the auditors are weak with laughter.

(The Detroit Journal.)

Old as it is, Parker A. Hord has made the theme of mistaken identity irresistibly and uproariously funny in his play, "A Mix-Up." Several people in the Garrick Theater showed marked symptoms of hysteria before the show was half over. Marie Dressler broke all records for curtain calls, and finally had to make a speech.

(The Detroit Times.)

(The Detroit News, Nov. 17th, 1914.)

It isn't enough to say that "A Mix-Up" is the biggest laughing show of the season. Perhaps the best way of indicating just how funny it is, is to say that it is the most comical entertainment seen here since "Tillie's Nightmare." The star of that boisterous musical comedy was Marie Dressler, and the star of "A Mix-Up," by Parker A. Hord, is the same Marie Dressler. And as the press agents say, bigger and better than ever.

Records for the season at the Colonial in Cleveland were broken last week by "A Mix-Up," a man back three rows became almost hysterical. The role offers her opportunities never available in her previous vehicles, and she grasps them with such a sure touch that you know her at the outset for a wonderfully expert comedienne. The show, and if everybody who was in the big audience last night has sufficiently recovered his breath and talk, a friend about it, high marks for attendance at the Garrick will be shattered, too.

The question that you eternally ask yourself when about to make Christmas gifts is, "What is it the recipient of my gifts want most, will be most pleased with, what will give them the greatest and most pleasant surprise, and what will look its value without too great an outlay of money?"

Your photograph, as a gift reminder to your friends and relatives will give more real pleasure to them and less trouble and expense to you than a more costly gift they can not use.

WOMEN IN CHURCH BOARD

First Time Such Action Has Occurred in History of Denomination.

Pittsburg.—Women, for the first time in the history of the Protestant Episcopal Church, were recognized as one of the important boards of that denomination when the synod of the third province, in session here, decided that the Provincial Board of Social Service shall hereafter be composed of one bishop, four presbyters, four laymen and two women. The day was principally devoted to a debate over the laws and rules which are to govern the newly created third province. The question of giving the synod a name resulted in considerable discussion, it being finally decided in favor of Washington City, with the province being known as the province of Washington. The synod also decided to elect the presiding bishop for three years. He will also be eligible to succeed himself.

HOW TO SUCCEED

During the last few years, conditions in all lines of business, even professional life, have changed so completely that every man is waking up to the fact that in order to win success he must specialize and learn to do some one thing and do it well.

So it is with any article that is sold to the people. It must have genuine merit or no amount of advertising will maintain the demand for the article.

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record maintained by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy. From the very beginning the proprietors had so much confidence in it that they invited everyone to test it.

It is a physician's prescription. They have on file thousands of unsolicited letters received from former sufferers who claim they are now enjoying good health as a result of its use.

However, if you wish first to try a sample bottle, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., enclose ten cents and mention this paper. They will promptly forward you a sample bottle by Parcel Post.
